Volume 13, Issue 1

2025 is off to an exciting start at SoHumane! Can you believe we are celebrating our 97th year in our original location on Table Rock Road? Despite challenges like fallen trees and muddy play yards from a wet winter, our dedicated staff and volunteers continue to ensure the dogs and cats on our campus receive the exercise, love, and care they deserve. Every day we are honored to be doing the critical lifesaving work that was started so many years ago.

Saving lives is what we do. We are incredibly fortunate that we never have to make life-or-death decisions for pets due to time or space constraints. Staff are able to provide essential veterinary care for the animals. Every dog and cat is given the time they need to find a loving family. This gift of life is only possible because of you — our amazing supporters. Your generosity is more important now than ever.

Sadly, this year has already brought a dramatic increase in the number of pets needing our help — both in our community and beyond. Thanks to your support, we are able to provide a safe haven for them. In 2024, in an effort to help people keep their pets at home, our pet food pantry distributed over 4,000 pounds of dog and cat food to those struggling to feed their pets. Your generosity made that possible — thank you!

We love hearing from you! Please contact me if you would like more information about our programs or if you'd like to help make a brighter future for the animals a reality.

All my best,

Karen Evans, Executive Director

Playtime for Dogs

When dogs arrive at SoHumane the busy kennel environment can be stressful. Staff immediately begin working to help them feel safe. A warm soft bed, food and water are set up in their kennels. New dogs are introduced to our enrichment program. This might include receiving a busy bucket, participating in playgroups, going for walks, and spending one-on-one time with volunteers. These activities allow dogs to display normal dog behaviors such as playing, chewing and running.

Playgroup is one of the fun ways for dogs to receive exercise and enjoy being outside. Dogs are social animals, and in playgroup they get to experience positive interactions with people while having a blast romping with their new dog friends. Dogs are also able to relax during these play activities which helps to reduce stress experienced during their stay.

Because of extensive volunteer, enrichment, and foster programs SoHumane is able to find permanent homes for dogs that typically might be overlooked and remain in shelters for months.

At SoHumane we strive to have dogs that are physically and mentally fulfilled through play, exercise and mental stimulation while they are in our care. This makes them better potential adoptees, less anxious and happier pets.

Consider how play activities can enrich your pet's life. Playtime and enrichment games can be easy, fun and good for your pet and you.

Loved

This is Simba formerly Simcha! – Jacob

Adopting Bobbie was one of the best decisions I have ever made. He is gentle, sweet, kind and such a little gentleman. He is incredibly smart too. – Dianne

Alice comes to work with me every day where she makes lots of new friends to play with. She has responded very well to training, and is now very reliable off-leash on walks. She is really an amazing dog and is loved by the whole family. – Malia

Charlotte/Charlie (Jaxson) is having a blast running around the house. We love her very much, and she is a wonderful addition to our family. Thank you for taking care of her until we were able to get her.

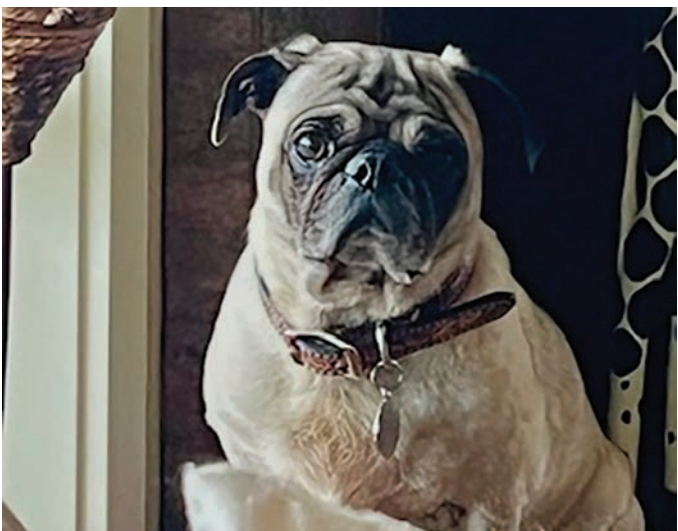

– Matthew

Whisper (Tara) at home – Linda

Tango is very playful, loving and a bit of a mischief. He's part of the family, and we love him very much. – Richard

Little Bochi (Bruce), is quite a little clown, and we couldn't be more smitten with him! Thank you for allowing us to adopt him! – Shannon & Jeremy

Simple Steps to Protect your Pets

Jennifer Wicklund, Doctor of Veterinary Medicine

Highly pathogenic avian influenza, otherwise known as bird flu or H5N1 HPAI, has been in the news lately for many reasons. Although the risk is currently low, H5N1 HPAI, a contagious influenza virus of domestic and wild birds, has the potential to become a significant public health risk to humans. In addition to being a major threat to the nationwide poultry industry, avian influenza also affects wild birds, most commonly raptors and waterfowl (ducks and geese). The virus has also been found in a number of mammals; the first multi-state outbreak in dairy cows was reported in early 2024. It has been documented that domestic and wild cats have died from H5N1 HPAI.

Jennifer Wicklund, DVM

Cats have contracted HPAI from birds via direct contact or ingestion, by consuming unpasteurized (raw) dairy products or uncooked pet foods, through exposure to infected livestock, and via exposure to people who work on affected farms and/or to their clothing or other fomites (inanimate objects that spread disease). As of mid-February 2025, four cats in Oregon have died from HPAI - three from consuming commercially prepared raw food and one from exposure to waterfowl.

Contact your veterinarian immediately if you notice the following signs in your cat, especially if they have contact with poultry or waterfowl or have eaten uncooked food or raw milk. In addition, isolate them from other pets and limit your family's access to them until they can be assessed by a veterinarian.

- Fever
- Lethargy
- Loss of appetite
- Discharge from eyes or nose
- Respiratory distress
- Tremors, seizures or sudden blindness

To help keep your cat safe from the dangers of HPAI, do not feed raw, undercooked or freeze-dried meat or poultry products or unpasteurized dairy products. Keep cats indoors and away from wild birds and poultry. Wash your hands after contact with poultry, livestock or raw animal products.

At this point in time, HPAI does not appear to affect dogs at nearly the rate it does cats, but it would be wise to follow the same guidelines as a precaution for dogs as well.

If you find sick or dead birds, do not handle them! Instead, report your findings to the Oregon Department of Agriculture at 503-986-4711. Care should be taken to limit exposure to H5N1 HPAI to keep family pets as well as human family members safe from this evolving virus.

Don't forget your pet's annual vet visit!

Vet visits are essential to keep your pet healthy and happy:

- Routine vaccinations and parasite preventatives are vital for your pet's health.
- Your vet can suggest a healthy weight and diet for your pet.
- Regular visits can identify medical issues early, allowing pets to undergo treatment promptly.
- Records of your pet's medical history could potentially save your pet's life.

A Toast for Tails

May 17, 2025

A Toast for Tails is a celebration of our wonderful animal friends. SoHumane depends on the generosity of people like you to maintain and grow our adoption services and community programs.

Please help us create a brighter future for the animals. Thank you for your compassion for the dogs and cats in our care.

Volunteer!

SoHumane finds homes for more than 1,000 dogs and cats each year. Volunteers help make providing exceptional care possible for these pets.

Dog walkers and the cat crew supply enrichment opportunities and exercise animals every day.

Student volunteers participate in Pet Partners, the PALS Program and the Reading Program.

Adoption and event volunteers are the support team for monthly and annual activities.

Volunteers help with maintaining the campus grounds and work on special projects.

Visit sohumane.org/volunteer or contact Maria Eddings, Volunteer Coordinator, at 541-779-3215 x 101 for more information on how you can save lives by volunteering.

Foster!

Kitten fostering makes up the bulk of SoHumane's fostering needs. Kitten season brings hundreds of kittens. Many of these kittens are under eight weeks of age and require placement in foster homes. Foster families that nurture kittens allow SoHumane to save hundreds of kittens every year!

Foster volunteers provide a temporary home environment for kittens, puppies, dogs and cats that need a shelter break, time to grow before adoption, are receiving specialized veterinary care, or who are healing after surgeries.

Interested in fostering? Contact Miranda Ahrens, Community Support Coordinator, at 541-779-3215 x 104. Visit sohumane.org/foster or stop by the Adoption Center, 2910 Table Rock Road, Medford, Oregon for more information.

Foster Homes Needed! Cats and dogs who are waiting for foster homes where they will receive extra care and comfort can be seen at www.sohumane.org/sohumanefosterprogram.

Your Legacy Gift

Planned giving is a wonderful way to support the cats and dogs at the Southern Oregon Humane Society.

A legacy gift is a meaningful way to carry forward your compassion and concern for the animals. I would be glad to discuss giving options with you — in confidence and without obligation.

A legacy gift can provide stable, long-term funding for SoHumane that will continue your commitment to helping animals long into the future. Please feel free to contact me. Your gift will change lives.

Saving Lives Since 1928

Hello - We adopted Zantana (now Suki) in February 2024. Just wanted to let you know she's doing really well. She is super smart and well behaved. We love her. Thank you for introducing us.

Mission Statement

To improve the lives of pets and people through sustainable programs of education, adoptions and spay/neutering.
